

WILL I KNOW YOU?

Music: Jeanette Arsenault

I keep a file filled with inspirational passages from various sources and every once in a while, I read through them. Sometimes a song emerges right before my very eyes, like this one did.

I had a dream last night
Though to me it seemed so real
A voice whispered He had a message to reveal
He spoke softly in my ear
But His words were loud and clear

CHORUS

Will I know you when I see your face on judgment day
Will I know you when I hear your voice as you pray
When I look into your heart
Will I know you

He said, "I have spoken to many
But few have taken heed"
"I am moved by your faith
More than your need"
You must abide in Me
Constantly

Live in My word, by My word, through My word
